

protection for pilots

Stein Pilot Insurance specialise in arranging insurance products for recreational and commercial pilots. We know which insurer is likely to be best suited based on the aircraft you fly, how often you fly and your experience.

Since establishment in 1989 we've set up contracts with a combined value exceeding £1.6 billion. We're directly authorised and regulated by the FCA and have clients all over the UK.

the insurers we use

We can access products from a wide range of leading insurers and always use UK based household name companies.

the cover we arrange

Our specialist areas include: life assurance, income protection, critical illness cover and travel insurance. Many other products are also available... please call for details. Policies we arrange typically cover a mortgage, business or provide family protection.

our advisor

Russ Stein is a protection specialist with over 30 years broking experience. He's also an aviator and learnt to fly at White Waltham in 1990. Russ currently flies out of a farm strip near Swindon. He knows the insurance market... and shares your flying passion.
